Recommendations
This past year there was an increased number of calls from patients complaining about failed implant treatment and care, how they can obtain their dental records, dental office fees and the costs of services, communications and informed consent, dismissals from dental practices, and feelings of discrimination and/or neglect from their dental practice. Additionally, there were increased calls from very upset patients this year inquiring about obtaining information regarding the general process to bring up concerns with legal and/or regulatory bodies. The MDA continues to support the public and members through the peer review process and/or by providing information for patients.
